VALENTINES.

The easy enough to look pleasant
With costly gifts coming space,
But the maiden worth while
Is the one who will smile
At the penny one with paper lace
—Judge's Library.

Mr. I. F. Chesler has bought the Armstrong Drugstore in the Fifth Ward and will take charge March 1st.

Colonel David Hechinger, the dean of the clothing business in Maysville, left Sunday over the C. and O. for Baltimore and New York to make his usual spring purchases for his house. Besides selecting a choice line of L. & Co. wear, Colonel Hechinger will spend some time in Baltimore visiting his daughter, Mrs. Retta Fox.

Miss Cynthia Cox

Miss Cynthia Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cox, died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of her parents in Smoky Hollow, after a protracted illness with dropsy, aged 28. The remains will be taken to Georgetown, O., tomorrow, provided the Ohio River can be crossed, otherwise the interment will be in the Maysville cemetery.

NINE NINETY-NINE

That's the Price in Dollars and Cents You are Asked to Pay
For a New Spring Suit

Mr. C. W. McCormick, formerly of this city, now associated with the Hanger-Kibler clothing syndicate, whose headquarters are at Columbus, Ohio, is in Maysville taking orders for their famous hand-tailored Suits, Overcoats and Raincoats at the remarkable low price of $9.99. He will be at Nelson's, 11 West Second street, for only a few days and you should call there and see the really elegant samples of the spring styles which are on display in the show windows, whether you place your order or not.

This clothing is sold under a guarantee of entire satisfaction or a new suit or your money back, whichever you prefer. Just think of it: A new, sobby spring suit for only $9.99. Orders taken for future delivery. Hurry!

Banner Price For Corn

The banner price for corn in this vicinity has been recorded. Thomas Mitchell, who resides in the Bridgeville locality, sold 100 bushels of first-class picked corn at $1 per bushel delivered. This is a better price than wheat is commanding around here.

Police Court.

Ordinarily business in Judge Whitaker's Court on a Monday afternoon is brisk and stirring, yesterday it was decidedly sluggish and little doing. Evidently the rounders were on their good behavior Saturday night as only one offender was arraigned before the Court—Alonso Washington, drunk, $0.50.

Distilled Water

Recently M. F. Williams & Co. of this city sent a sample of water used by the Maysville Ice Co. in the manufacture of its product, to the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington to be tested and received the following reply—

Dear Sir: The sample of distilled water sent by your firm to this office has been examined by Dr. L. A. Brown and he reports that it "conforms to U. S. P. tests." Respectfully,
R. M. ALLEN,
Head of Division.

A Worthy Man's Good Habit

A worthy colored man was telling an incident in the long and honorable career of the late T. M. Dora that young men would do well to emulate.

The colored folks were having an entertainment at the Church, and, passing by his store very late Saturday night, and seeing a light there, this man, looking in to see if all was right and observing Mr. Dora, asked him what made him so late, and was told:

"Boys, I am blacking my boots for Sunday, as I never put it or any work off till then, no matter how late it makes me."
He had been Superintendent of the Sunday-school for nearly half a century.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

A Seventeen-Year-Old Boy Slashes
His Accuser Eighteen Times
With a Barlow Knife

Elizah Hogbe, aged 17, son of John Hogbe, a farmer, and Joseph Armbruster, aged 48, a merchant at Germantown, this county, engaged in a fight at the latter's place of business in which Hogbe cut Armbruster eighteen times about the head, face and throat, Sunday evening.

Hogbe says the fight started upon Armbruster accusing him of stealing apples and a pair of gloves from his store. He says that Armbruster looked the door and told Hogbe he would kill him unless he produced the alleged stolen articles, and started in to make his throat good by hitting him over the head with a club. Hogbe drew a barlow knife in self defense, he claims, wounding it with probable fatal results. He was arrested at his home yesterday by Sheriff Mackey and brought to the Maysville Jail, where he will be kept, pending the outcome of Armbruster's injuries.

Mr. Woodie Owens has returned from an "interesting visit" to Noblesville, Ind.

A farmer of the county says he has been feeding fodder on one place all winter, and so ravenously has the stock eaten it that he can gather up the remnants in a bushel basket.

HIS TROUBLE
NOT OF HEART

Real Facts In Regard To F. R. Huffman's Illness. Relief Obtained By Curing His Stomach Ailments.

Waynesville, N. C.—Mr. F. R. Huffman, of this city, says: "I suffered dreadfully with what I thought was heart trouble, and tried various medicines in vain.

After other remedies had failed, Thedford's Black-Draught restored me to health. I would not feel safe without Black-Draught in the house. I consider it worth its weight in gold.

It cured my indigestion, and by this means I was restored to health. I can not express my gratitude for its benefits."

Good health depends on the condition of your digestion. Poor digestion and good health do not go together.

Thedford's Black-Draught will thoroughly cleanse and set in order your digestive system.

It has done this for others, during the past 70 years, and is today the most popular vegetable liver remedy on the market. Try it.
Insist on Thedford's. Price 25c.

Mr. Robert Jefferson of Mayslick, who has been ill in St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, for two weeks, is reported not so well.

Last week the Dover News stated in its columns that the Audubon Mineral Water Co. at Dover had purchased the bottling outfit of the old famous Hine-Lick Springs Co. The item should have said the bottling works of the Upper Blue Lick Springs Co., which company has been out of business for some seven years. —Carle's Advocate.

BACK TAXES

Estate of Mrs. S. N. Meyer Pays
$1,400 to Auditor's Agent

The Auditor of Mrs. S. N. Meyer, deceased, has paid in back taxes the sum of $1,400, representing five years assessment. Mrs. Meyer at the time of her death resided in Cincinnati where her fortune was invested and assessed, but having claimed Maysville as her home the estate came within the purview of the Auditor's Agent, hence the taxation.

SHEETING AND PILLOW
CASE LINEN

Well known, superior standard makes at the price of just fairly good kinds. Linens that have a measure of quality so good, so thoroughly up to your expectations, you will want to buy a supply for future as well as present needs. Don't consider in an indefinite way Linen Sheeting at 98c to $1 1/4 a yard or Pillow Case Linen at 50c to $1 a yard but come here to see what real quality is represented by every price we quote.

Irish Linens

There is no particular reason why Irish Linens should have the preference. There are a half dozen other linen producing sources that are just as good. Yet there is something sturdy and serviceable about Irish Linens that make people want ever-increasing quantities of them year after year. Irish Table Linen by the yard 50c to $3 1/4. Napkins 60c to $7 1/2 dozen. Handkerchief Linen 50c to $1 1/4 yard. Linen Suitings 25c to $1 1/4 yard.

orderly way, and with judicial fairness. There no blowing of trumpets or beating of toms as he goes about his work.
He has served about three years of his first
In that short period he has done more dissolve, to regulate and to punish unlawful acts and to safeguard the public's interest in these combinations than all of his predecessors together.

In his diplomacy he has laid broad, practical foundations for world-peace and has taught in correct form and with earnest purpose the universal brotherhood of man.
He is rapidly bringing to a successful conclusion the construction of the Panama Canal in advance of the time set for its completion and that, too, without a breath of scandal taint of jobbery.

Confronted by a large deficit in the public treasury soon after he assumed office, he has replaced it with a surplus.
For the first time in the history of the Nation the Postoffice Department now shows a surplus each year, while the service has been extended and the pay of employees increased.
He has begun to systematize departmental work in a manner to greatly increase its efficiency and to lessen its cost relatively to the achievements.

He has brought order out of chaos in the Philippines and is rapidly developing powers of self-government in the natives.

Elected by an overwhelming majority on a platform declaring for protective duties which shall equal the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad, and the Congress, unaided by outside expert investigation, having failed to pass a law satisfactory to the people, he demanded a tariff board to ascertain in cost, and properly he refuses to again give his approval to laws based on insufficient information or on partisan desires for political capital.

He has insisted that court procedure shall be reformed and simplified so that litigation may be concluded more expeditiously and at less cost. He has refused to permit the Supreme Court to be made a pawn for political intrigue.

Indeed his whole administration demonstrates that he is a good man, a wise statesman, a splendid executive and a safe leader and deserves the endorsement of a second term.—

In a paper containing the results of a careful study of 109 children ranging from birth to 13 years of age, Dr. RICHARD B. SMITH, of Grand Rapids, Mich.,

concludes in a recent issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association, that the frail child presents

the following fundamental characteristics:
Frailness, lack of fat, slenderness of muscle, lack of vigor in body development. The muscular insufficiencies of later life in frail women are common in frail children. The lessened ability of such a woman to fulfill the duties imposed on her, the limitations placed on her by her lack of vigor and the unhappiness which such women in a state of fatigue endure are serious matters with her. More might be done in the way of prevention. The frail child should be more clearly recognized and its tendencies more intelligently fought. In a large number of instances it is possible to maintain a fair state of nutrition in such children and to direct them to a more vigorous womanhood. When such is uniformly done it will do away, to a certain extent, with the neurotic women who form such a problem in every-day practice and in almost every specialty.

There is a story about Colonel Roosevelt which illus-

Mr. Roosevelt, some years ago helped two boys to launch enormously, till at last it reached its climax in a Japa-

This Japanese journal declared that Mr. Roosevelt had swum three miles out to a capsized sailboat and then had swum three miles back again through a raging sea with four boys on his back.

Losing the Social Instinct

"My dear," said young Mrs. Allison, peeling off her gloves and flinging them down with a snap, "you did well when you renounced the frivolities of life."

"When I—er—what?" gasped the matron with auburn hair, as she dropped an extra lump of sugar into her caller's tea and set the cup down hurriedly.

"Well, why not?" inquired young Mrs. Allison. "That will do, dear. I take only two lumps, not the whole bowlful."

"Explain yourself, Celeste!" demanded the young matron with auburn hair, severely. "Has any one been saying that I am getting fat and stolid or is this your inimitable way of criticizing my winter wardrobe?"

Young Mrs. Allison smiled inscrutably. "Celeste," said her hostess again, sharply, "if you weren't my best friend I should call that a positive grin."

Young Mrs. Allison continued to grin, happily. "Well, she said, after selecting the thinnest sandwich on the tray and biting into it with caution, 'to begin with, you've moved to a suburb, haven't you?'"

"Um-mm; is that all?"

"No, but that's one thing."

"Very well; what next?"

"And you've stopped wearing false hair."

"Why, yes, so I have," admitted the hostess, tranquilly. "I got tired of the messy stuff, and when I happened to think it over I couldn't see any reason why I shouldn't let my hair stand on its own merits."

"Exactly," agreed young Mrs. Allison. "Thirdly, you've dropped the bridge club!"

The matron with auburn hair sighed. "I had to," she explained. "And," she added, with a sudden burst of confidence, "you've no idea, dearest, what a relief it is. For two years, once a week, I've hooked myself into my best clothes and sat all of a pleasant sun-afternoon in some one's stuffy drawing room gambling for, let us say, a green sash; that would make me look, if I won it, like a horse show poster. I have partaken enthusiastically of siruplike ice creams and oily salads forty-five minutes before dinner hour." She paused for breath and smiled suddenly upon her caller.

"Instead of all that," she concluded, "I now repose in this easy chair with a book and a box of chocolates, which achieve the same effect upon my appetite, but are less strenuous."

"Nonsense," said young Mrs. Allison. "You're losing the social instinct, that's all! All suburbanites do. But, as I remarked to begin with, you have adopted the wise course."

She frowned thoughtfully, while her hostess waited in silence.

"Well?" her hostess demanded, finally.

"It's very tragic," said young Mrs. Allison. "You know my Aunt Elvira?"

The matron with auburn hair nodded. "The poor woman who was so ill at your house last summer," she said.

"Poor nothing," contradicted young Mrs. Allison, sternly. "There's nothing the matter with Aunt Elvira but imaginary diseases. She's so crabbed that her own children won't live with her, and she's so rich that her other relatives have to. She takes a private car down to Florida every winter, and I had thought that Fred and I could make rather pleasant use of an invitation to go with her this year, because Fred didn't get any vacation in the summer."

"Well, my love, last week Saturday I positively dragged Fred home from the office to go out to the Country club with me in the afternoon. I felt that my system demanded the diversion and I didn't want to go alone. It was a horrid, chilly trip and our supper out there was miserable. When we got home this is the message written on Aunt Elvira's visiting card that met me in the hand of the maid:

"Dear Celeste—I'm sorry you couldn't take time from your pursuit of pleasure to comfort my tired and travel stained self. I'm going over to Cousin Emma's. Respectfully, A. E."

The matron with auburn hair gasped. "But did you know she was coming?" she asked.

"Oh, no," said young Mrs. Allison, composedly. "Not having a sixth sense for her arrivals in town. It's just one of her little eccentricities, that's all! Cousin Emma goes to Florida on Thursday," she added, sadly.

"Well, of all things!" cried the matron with auburn hair, sympathetically. "After you and Fred had it all planned!"

"We—N," admitted young Mrs. Allison, slowly, "as a matter of fact, Fred hadn't planned exactly. He seemed positively to enjoy the situation. He said he had a picture of himself going, anyway. And he added that he'd rather pound rocks than to go anywhere with Aunt Elvira. Good-by, dear; I'm going to join your easy chair brigade and do my hair flat in the back."

Leaving Progress.

WAS SANTIAGO HERO

Rear Admiral Wainwright Put on the Retired List.

IS KEPT ON ACTIVE DUTY

Lieutenant Greble, Member of an Army Family, Is Made Junior Aide to the President—Incident of His Cadet Days.

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington.—Rear Admiral Richard Wainwright, aide for operation at the navy department, has just been placed on the retired list by reason of his age. The admiral is sixty-two years old, but like many another old sailor he does not look it. Wainwright's record of service has been such that Secretary of the Navy Meyer has decided to retain him on active duty in this city, to hold membership in the general board of the navy of which Admiral Dewey is chairman.

Dewey is a full admiral of the United States navy, the highest ranking officer held by any officer of either service. Any army officer to be of equal rank with Dewey would have to be authorized to write "general" in front of his name, not lieutenant general, nor major general, nor brigadier general, but plain general. There has been no general of the army since Phil Sheridan died. Admiral Dewey is still in the active service by reason of his rank. He can retire when he will and really his active service is in name only.

Rear Admiral Wainwright, having been continued on active duty although transferred to the retired list, will receive the full pay of his grade. Wainwright himself was rather averse to remaining on active duty because he thinks it is not altogether a good precedent to establish. He thinks with General Sherman that when an officer is retired he ought to be retired actually as well as in name. It was Richard Wainwright, it will be remembered, who took command of John Pierpont Morgan's yacht Corsair when it was turned over to the United States government for service in the Spanish-American war.

When this little yacht had been armed and Wainwright had been put in command it was to serve as a supposedly minor part of the fleet in front of Santiago harbor. When Cervera's ships came out of Sanlúcar de Torpedos boat destroyers made straight for Wainwright's yacht, which was unarmored, although, of course, not six-pounders and three-pounders with such good effect that he sank one of the formidable Spanish craft in less than half an hour and drove the other on the beach disabled.

Greble's an Army Family.
Lieutenant E. St. John Greble, Jr., of the field artillery, formerly stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., has been detailed as a junior aide to the president at the White House, succeeding Capt. Ligon Johnson, who has been ordered to Manila. Lieutenant Greble is a son of Col. E. St. John Greble of the artillery, who is now on special duty with the general staff in Washington.

Here is an army family. Lieutenant Greble's grandfather, Colonel Greble's father, was a graduate of West Point and the close friend of Gen. O. O. Howard. The senior Greble was killed at the battle of Ball's Bluff, Va., and he was the first officer of the regulars to die in defense of the Union.

The present Colonel Greble was a baby when his father was killed. Gen. O. O. Howard, then an officer of junior rank, was godfather to his friend's son. Years afterward the baby, grown to boyhood, was appointed to West Point by President Hayes. His godfather, General Howard, was named as superintendent of the Military academy when Greble was a first class cadet, the word military being used in the sense it is at the academy, to mean fine, soldierly appearance and general adaptability to the military profession. Greble had been made cadet adjutant, a position which, carrying only the rank of cadet lieutenant, is of course below that of cadet captain, but which on account of the nature of the duties is preferred as an appointment to one carrying a cadet captaincy.

General Howard's Sense of Duty.
General Howard was a man who believed in doing his duty right up to the letter of the law. He was extraordinarily fond of his godson. One day Greble, like many another cadet before him and since, took a little trip "off limits," crossing the Hudson river on the ice to visit some friends at a place called Cold Spring. Unfortunately for him, an officer saw him and reported him as being off limits, which at the Military academy is a serious offense.

The question of punishment was put straight to General Howard. He called Greble to him and they had a talk which never has been reported, but the next day Greble appeared on the parade ground without the insignia of his adjutant's rank and instead of carrying a sword he was carrying a rifle. He had been reduced from his high position and put into the ranks by the order of his godfather, who had a high sense of duty no matter what his performance might do to his heart. Greble remained a private in the cadet ranks for the rest of the year. He was a fine student, however, graduating high in his studies, and today he is one of the ranking colonels of the artillery in the United States army.

FREE SAMPLE OF LAXATIVE CURED HIS CONSTIPATION

When a person has become discouraged through years of failure to find a cure, and finally, perhaps, gives up trying, it is small wonder that he becomes skeptical. And yet, to all who have constipation, we would say, "Try just one thing more."

We wish you would try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a laxative tonic that has been used for a generation. Thousands are using it; surely some of your friends among the number. You can buy it of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, but better still, send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. He will send you enough to convince you of its merits, and then if you like it you can buy it of your druggist. Mr. J. J. Petty of Unionville, Mo., Mr. George W. Zimmerman of Harrisburg, Pa., and many others of both sexes and in all parts of the country first used a sample bottle and now have it regularly in the house.

PITTSBURGH-CINCINNATI

$50,000 Corporation to Build Line Down the Ohio

Georgetown (Ohio) News-Democrat.

When the County Commissioners met Monday afternoon, they had before them Mr. A. O. Kirschner of Cincinnati, one of the promoters of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati traction line. Mr. Kirschner's business was to secure a renewal of the franchise, granted some eighteen months ago, to construct this line along the river front in this county. His request was that the time be extended until June 8th, 1912, and this was granted.

Before leaving for West Union, where the same request was to be made for franchise through Adams county, Mr. Kirschner gave out some very promising information that the road was to be built. He stated that in all the fourteen counties in Ohio, and the two in Pennsylvania, through which the line is to be constructed, they had had no trouble in securing renewal of franchises, which was an indication that the people wanted to see the line constructed. He stated that his company was incorporated under the laws of Delaware with a capitalization of $10,000,000, that the road was to be built by English capital, which comes through the Westminster Bank of London. He also stated that not alone were he and Mr. A. E. Cox, who is chief promoter of the road, securing the renewal of franchise, but that options were being secured upon several roads in and about Cincinnati, among which were the Ohio River & Columbus and the Cincinnati, Georgetown & Portsmouth, and also the Interurban Traction road. Ex-Governor James Campbell has been retained by the English syndicate that will furnish funds to build the road, and monthly parties met at Columbus to close options for using these roads, should it be found practical. He departed giving positive assurance that when the open season arrived work of building the road was to be commenced at several points along the 175 miles it is proposed in between and rush to completion.

IN SOUTHERN SEAS

Rob Hoeflich Views Wreck of Maine—Writes of His Trip to West Indies

ON BOARD S. S. LAURENTIC.

COLON, ISTHMOUS OF PANAMA,

February 24, 1912.

Dear Ledger: I am on this magnificent steamer, the largest and finest ever in the West Indies. The first day out from New York was cold, next day much warmer and since then every day has been summer-like and everyone is wearing white, cool clothes. The fourth day out we were in Havana and had two ideal days there, going to the forts and seeing all the sights. The greatest of all being the "Maine." We were on the coffee dam and saw the wreck from all sides. A bulkhead is being built and the larger part will be floated and then taken to sea and sunk.

It was like getting back home to come back to the ship. We sailed out at 5 p. m. and breakfast were on foot and sea walls to see us off. The harbor of Havana is very beautiful and many snapshots were taken of Morro Castle, at the entrance. Our next stop was Santiago de Cuba. On the way from Havana we passed the U. S. Station, Guantanamo and saw many battleships there, and at practice near.

The entrance to Santiago is very narrow and our great ship had to go in very slowly and anchor two miles off. We saw where the terraces were sunk, that gave Hobson fence. At no place is the entrance as wide as the Ohio River, but it is deeper; after getting in the bay it is large and lovely. Many palm trees on the shores, and at night in the motor boats it is lovely. We next passed along the Southern coast of Cuba and saw where Cervera's fleet was destroyed. Santiago is a city of 55,000, but very Spanish, only a few American improvements—electric cars from Philadelphia and electric lights, and a few paved streets being all that is new. We were ashore Saturday night and the sights were wonderful. Steep, narrow streets, no pavements filled with people of all shades, from white to black. The stores and cafes are all open and rabid.

After this, the trip across a moonlit bay in a fast motor boat was grand. Sunday quite a crowd of us went out to the battle-ride of El Caney and San Juan Hill. Saw the block house and Treaty Tree, a very interesting trip. Quite a lot stopped to see the famous or infamous cock fights, as there were special big ones that day. The market is fine; bought fruits of all kinds very cheap. Our next stop was Port au Prince, Haiti. Imagine a city of 115,000 without a paved street, a sidewalk, a sewer, gas, water &c. The pavements are all of heights; some of them three feet apart. The market was the worst, the smells were awful; poverty, refuse matter, tumble down houses, beggars at every side—that is Port au Prince.

NEED THE WARNING

MANY MAYSVILLE PEOPLE HAVE DONE SO

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys excrete a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brick-dust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys often cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and rheumatic twinges. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only.

Maysville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Mrs. John E. Burns of Maysville, Ky., says: "I value Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly today as when I gave a statement for publication in their praise some years ago. I was subject to attacks of kidney trouble and at times the pains in my back were so acute that I was confined to my bed for days. The prompt relief I received from Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, was very gratifying, and I have had no serious return attack of kidney trouble. On some occasions, I have felt a slight backache, but a few doses of this valuable remedy have again failed to banish me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 60 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Prince. The Palace has a beautiful garden. The U. S. Consul has a clean looking place; there is a grand new Cathedral Building, electric lights and a long pier, built by a New York company, are the only new things in Port au Prince.

Our next stop was Kingston, Jamaica, and there I met the Man from Maysville, Right Rev. Bishop Collins, born in Mason county, a brother of lawyer James Collins of Court street. He was very glad to see me and certainly has done a good work in his field of labor. His new Cathedral, finished in February, 1911, is a magnificent, re-inforced concrete building and would be a building of note in New York. He took me driving in his carriage and I saw many beautiful houses and gardens, also visited two of his schools and fondled them very interesting. In the evening we had dinner at the lovely new hotel "Myrtle Bank," with real palm garden running down to the bay. It was like fairy land, set in a garden with a band of fifty playing sadistic lights softened by Japanese lanterns. A summer night January 30th. All our passengers were delighted with Kingston. There are still many places showing the results of the earthquake of 1907, but handsome new buildings are going up of concrete that can withstand a shock. The city has 60,000 people, splendid streets, arcades, lights, sewerage, &c., and makes an ideal winter resort. It is the only place with enough water for our boat to get up to dock.

This will be mailed from Panama or Colon tomorrow, February 21, and I will tell you about the Canal later. Yours very truly, R. L. HOEFLICH.

THE EFFECTIVE LAXATIVE

Tastes Like and Is Eaten Like Candy

In my experience in the handling of drugs and medicines, I believe I have never had experience with any remedy that gave such great satisfaction to my customers as do Rexall Orderlies. This remedy is not like any other laxative or cathartic. It contains all the good features of other laxatives, but none of their faults.

My own faith in Rexall Orderlies is so strong that I offer them to you on my own positive personal guarantee that if they do not thoroughly satisfy you, you only need tell me and I will hand back to you every penny you paid me for them. Therefore, in trying them upon my recommendation you take no risk whatever.

Rexall Orderlies taste like and are eaten like candy. They do not grip, cause nausea, excite free looseness or any other annoyance. They act so easily that they may be taken at any time, day or night. They are particularly good for children, aged or delicate persons. They are put up in convenient tablets in three sizes of packages, 10c, 25c and 50c.

Remember, Rexall Remedies can be obtained in the community only at our store—The Rexall Store. Thos. J. Chenoweth, corner Second and Sutton streets.

Deafness cannot be cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, it swells and shuts itself off from the middle ear. It is then necessary to use a remedy that will reach the inflamed mucous surface, break down the inflammation, and the hearing will be restored. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. J. C. HALL, M. D., 107 N. 2nd St., St. Louis, Mo.

STORIES

UTY OF PICKET DURING WAR.

Young Recruits Were Troubled Greatly
With Botherous Countersign—
One Gives Up Rifle.

In "A Little Flier's War Diary" C. V. Burdett relates many an incident that has not before been light. Among these are some relating to picket duty and the rendering of the bothersome countersign which are truly remarkable. For instance, of possessing a soldier some faint particle of the soldierly instinct, many of the younger recruits, it would seem, were of a strikingly civilian frame of mind, and this can be no more said of one army man than of the other.

This is a characteristic account: One recruit challenged. "Who goes here?" "The Grand Rounds," in reply. "Halt, Grand Rounds," the sergeant, and give the countersign. "O, I thought it was the general testing the sentries came upon a young recruit who halted him. "Stop! Have you the countersign?" "No," replied the general. "What, another one without it?" exclaimed the sentry in disgust. "Well, I'll tell you; it's 'Victory'." The general gasped for breath. "What do you mean by giving anyone

"Give Me That Rifle or I'll Cut Your Heart Out."

"I'm the general and I'll have you hanged."

The sentry was amazed. "Why, my orders were not to let anyone pass without the countersign," he exclaimed. "Let me tell you, I'm tired of giving it. Such a lot don't seem to know it."

Words of this sort might be occasionally heard: "Who comes there?" "A friend."

"Advance, friend, and give the countersign."

"Hang it, man, I have forgotten it."

"Begorra, so have I."

One officer, approaching a sentry, was surprised to be greeted with "Hill-die-de-hill."

"What do you mean by challenging like that?" he inquired. "The last time I was on duty," was the reply. "I was told to challenge in a more musical voice, and that's the only time I know."

On the troopship St. Lawrence in 1845 an officer who had just got up from a convivial party proceeded to visit the sentries, and this dialogue was overheard:

"Sentry."

"Yes, sir."

"You're asleep, sentry."

"Oh, no, I am not, sir."

"But I say you are asleep, sentry."

"Very well, then, sir; I am."

"Then why on earth didn't you say you were asleep, sentry?"

A WOMAN'S WISDOM.

The worried mother wakes up to hear her baby's heavy breathing—a little cough—perhaps the croup or whooping cough. She does not want to send for the doctor when perhaps the trouble does not amount to much. Finally she thinks of that medical book her father gave her, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," by Dr. Pierce, M. D. She says "just the thing to find out what is the matter with the little dear." Two million households in this country own one—and it's to be had for only 31c. in stamps—1,000 pages in splendid cloth binding. A good family adviser in any emergency. It is for either sex. This is what many women write Dr. Pierce—in respect to his "Favorite Prescription," a remedy which has made thousands of melancholy and miser-able women cheerful and happy, by curing the painful womanly diseases which under-mine a woman's health and strength.

Mrs. ZUBERT AND DAUGHTER.

"My desire is to write a few lines to let you know what your valuable medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. MAUD ZUBERT, of 223 N. Jefferson Street, Baltimore, Md. "Before the trouble came to our house I was a very sick woman. I wrote you for advice which was kindly given and which made me a different woman in a short time. After taking the first bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' I began improving so that I hardly knew I was in such a condition. I did my own housework—washing and ironing, cooking, sewing, and the worst of all nursed three children who had whooping cough. I hardly knew of the advent of winter before—so easy was it. The baby is as fat as a butter-bell. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for any woman to take when in this condition. I recommend it to all my friends."

The officer was more than convinced that he would, and hastily handed the weapon back.

Paid $2.31 After 46 Years.

Forty-six years after he had put in a claim against the government for $2.31, James B. Earl of Denver, Colo., a veteran of the civil war, received his money. As the government pays no interest, Earl's check, which he received recently, was for the exact amount he claimed on Aug. 16, 1865, when he was mustered out of the Union army. At that time his pay check was short $1.60, and his clothing allowance 71 cents.

Came of It

A careless grocer left the wrong package at a Michigan home one day and thereby brought a great blessing to the household.

"Two years ago I was a sufferer from stomach trouble, so acute that the effort to digest ordinary food gave me great pain, and brought on a condition of such extreme nervousness that I could not be left alone. I thought I should certainly become insane. I was so reduced in flesh that I was little better than a living skeleton. The doctors failed to give me relief and I despaired of recovery."

"One day our grocer brought a package of Grape-Nuts food by mistake, so I tried some for dinner. I was surprised to find that it satisfied my appetite and gave me no distress whatever. The next meal I ate of it again, and to be brief, I have lived for the past year almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts. It has proved to be a most healthful and appetizing food, perfectly adapted to the requirements of my system."

"Grape-Nuts is not only easily digested and assimilated, but I find that since I have been eating it I am able to eat anything else my appetite fancies, without trouble from indigestion. The stomach trouble and nervousness I have left me, and I have regained my plumpness and my view of life are no longer despondent and gloomy."

"Other members of my family, especially my husband, (whose old enemy, the 'heart burn,' has been vanquished) has also derived great benefit from the use of Grape-Nuts food and we think no morning meal complete without it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason, and it is explained in the little book, 'The Road to Wellville,' in page 16.

$7,000,000 IN CONTRACTS

L. and N. Will Double-Track 283 Miles of Its Line and Work is to Begin at Once

At a meeting held in Louisville Monday by the executive officials of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad bids were let for double-tracking the line from a point above Nashville to a point above Birmingham. The bids let Monday call for an outlay of $7,000,000. Two hundred bids were entered for this work.

The letting of these contracts means the beginning of the expenditure of $15,000,000 to improvement. The road will double-track its line eventually below Birmingham to the Gulf coast in preparation for the opening of the Panama Canal in 1913. The double-tracking will be accomplished by means of an extension below Birmingham to Selma, Ala., to connect with the Selma-Florence branch, which runs from Florence, above Mobile, to Selma. The work is to be completed in two years.

The contracts awarded Monday include practically all of the heavy construction and will cover all of the 100 miles of the 283 miles of double-tracking which is in contemplation. Contracts for the construction of lighter work, including tracks over comparatively level surfaces, will likely be let in Louisville before the end of the present week.

Milliners Decide That Spring Headgear Will Be Smaller Than Usual

At Chicago the National Association of Retail Milliners in convention decided the proper thing to have this spring should be:

Small or medium in size.
A riot of colors, with plenty of plain red. Novelty in Turkish designs.
Anything rather than large hats for fashionable women.

In the way of novelties, an umbrella hat, a "cow-walker," a score of creations evolved from the Turkish towel—red stripes, tassels and all—and wound turbans effects are set forth in the display of hats.

BACKACHE NOT A DISEASE

But a Symptom, a Danger Signal Which Every Woman Should Heed.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Read about Mrs. Woodall's experience.

Morton's Cap, Kentucky. "I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Cap, Kentucky.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Fall of Manchu Dynasty

Peking, February 12th—After three centuries of absolute rule, the Manchu dynasty at noon today yielded up its power and abdicated the throne of China in favor of a representative form of government.

Pu Yi, the child Emperor, who Monday abdicated the throne of China, was placed in power November 14th, 1908, following the death of the Emperor Kwang Su. Prince Chu, brother of Kwang Su and father of Pu Yi, served as Regent.

It is now thought at Lexington that Mrs. L. E. Wood, who was found dead in bed, was not asphyxiated, but died from poison.
